DEDICATION

The class of 1964 considers it an honor and a privilege to dedicate their yearbook, the MITOBO, to Mrs. Blanchard. She has been a great help, and has offered her services to our class, most willingly. In appreciation of her hard work, we now dedicate our yearbook to her.

IN MEMORIAM

THE CLASS OF 1964 WAS SADDENED BY THE LOSS OF DENISE AMERO, A FRIEND TO EVERYONE. GRADUATION WILL SEEM INCOMPLETE WITHOUT HER AS THE PAST TWO YEARS HAVE BEEN. SHE HAS BEEN MISSED GREATLY AND WILL ALWAYS BE KEPT IN OUR MEMORIES.

CLASS WILL
CLASS OF 1964

We the Senior Class of 1964, being of completely unsound mind and body, do hereby bequeath the abridged following:

Jane Alexander --
leaves her secretarial classes to Penny Felix.
Paul Armitage --
leaves Mrs. Friedman his superior knowledge in American Civilization.
Jackie Aulson --
leaves her little red skirt to the next six foot cheerleader, whoever she may be.
Stephen Balentine -- leaves his pack of cigarettes and lighter to Spike Swindell.
Jane Barrows --
leaves her Howard Johnson place setting to Dave Evans.
Patricia Bedell --
leaves her football ability to Steve Chew.
Robert Bishop --
leaves a flashlight to the fellows in the dark room.
Carole Blaisdell --
leaves her Algebra ability to Barbara Blaisdell.
Jeanie Blyth --
leaves her giggle to Mr. Carpenter in hopes he puts it to good use.
Judi Brackley --
leaves her hair to Sue Matthews and friendly disposition and smiling face to Perry Sager.
Richard Britton --
leaves the stage to all future Thespians.
Rosemary Bryant --
leaves her record of "The Stripper" to Wally Wells.
Paul Butters--
leaves the dark room floods to any deserving junior.
Kerry Campbell --
leaves a case of test tubes to Miss Swenson.
Christine Caples --
leaves nothing, cause she's taking it all with her.
Nancy Cardelli --
leaves her funny walk to Lauri Blyth.
Nan Castle --
leaves her shyness to Perry Sager.
Paul Cathcart --
leaves one large pair of ballet shoes to Mr. Roberts.
Susan Chadwick --
leaves one chair, one desk, and one hour to any unfortunate underclassman who will be taking Geometry.
Carol Claflin --
leaves two certain sophomore boys alone.
Judy Coe --
leaves all her unpaid lunches and library bills to Sue Smith in hopes she will pay them.
Rene Colonas --
leaves Marina a private phone with an extension cord 80,000,000 feet long so she can take it with her.
Susan Comstock --
leaves all the filing and recording of Mrs. Hoogerzeil's records to any ambitious junior.
Bill Cotter --
leaves his teachers.
Wendy Crance --
leaves her slenderness to Mrs. McGarr.
Lib Cressey --
leaves the end of Lake Street to Pam Leary with the knowledge that it will be put to good use.
John Despres --
leaves his little black book for the telephone booth.
Ronald Dey --
leaves Frank Gingrande a tape recorder to put in his football helmet to tell him what to do on all football plays.
Rhoda Dineen --
leaves her constant hunger to Sue Lindh.
Bill Dodds --
leaves his B. S. A. merit badge to Mr. Margulies.
Susan Dodge --
leaves the library some fast records.
Michael Doucette -- leaves a whip antenna to Miss Reynolds so she can find her V. W.
Micheal Doyle --
leaves Snydely J. Fargwart to anyone rich enough to buy him.
Peter Durkee --
leaves a half empty carton of milk to Mr. Vaughn and his collection of Coke bottles to the next poor soul who gets Locker #1142.
Dorothy Earle --
leaves her gift of gab to "Silent" Knight.
Guy Emro --
leaves Mr. Margulies to the tots.
Jane Eriksen --
leaves fond memories of that weekend in "Wolfboro" and George plus the four Beatles to Eleanor Harris and Susan Johns.
Daniel Evans --
leaves Mr. Parker an air conditioner for the driver ed. car.
Lani Evans --
leaves a chocolate pizza with mozarella cheese to Christy Begin.
Donna Evitts --
leaves a pair of roller skates to Perry, Linda and Mason to get to their gym classes on time.
Paul Farrell --
leaves his car; for experimental uses only.
Richard Farrell --
leaves Miss Reynolds a pocket size version of the O. E. D. and his own private poetry book.
Bill Fitzmyer --
leaves his twangy sneakers to Mr. Dresser.
Carole Flachbart --
leaves her French Horn, unwillingly.
Pete Fletcher --
leaves Mr. Lo Pilatto's sense of humor to the local mortician.
Dave Forrest --
Francis Lebel --
Thomas Longo --
leave Mr. Marqulies a pair of Navy boots and a one year expense paid trip to Camp Drum.
Dorothy Forrest --
leaves a fire extinguisher to Linda Davis (for the purpose of putting out her sizzling bangs).
Brenda Frazier -- leaves her General Custer fund to Chief Masconomet, as it is being sought for income tax evasion.

David Freedman --
leaves his special football stance to Coach Roberts and the '64 football team.

Suzanne French --
leaves a set of simplified sewing directions to Bunny Monroe.

Robert Fuller --
leaves his father's leather strap to Mr. Mueller.

Jim Gauthier --

leaves Miss Marchalonis a refill for her bottle of bad people pills for next year's Senior English classes.

Mike Haag --
leaves B-113 a large bottle of air-freshener.

Charles Handy --
leaves his midnight rides to the airport, and early morning breakfasts at Dunkin' Donuts, to Pam Leary and Sue Matthews.

Ellen Hingston --
leaves the dying flower on her trombone to Eric Ansteensen.

Norma Hoogerzeil --
leaves her position as band librarian to anyone who thinks they can work hard enough to please Mr. Gay.

Betty Horton --
leaves a five yard gym towel to Sue Bickford.

Candy Houldsworth --
leaves Mr. Jervah to the poor "innocent" juniors.

Lynn Houser --
leaves the route 97 sand pits to Steve Chew, Mike Murphy, and Wally Wells or to any other juniors who enjoy swimming after dark.

John Hunter --
leaves a pillow to Mr. Carpenter.

John Jones --
leaves a slide rule to Mr. Hawkes to figure out square feet.

Paula Katz --
leaves her honor pin to another brilliant student.

Paul Kelly --
leaves Advanced Biology to anyone who thinks he can take it 6 periods a week.

Andrea Kilroy --
leaves a case of Glade air-freshener to the keeper of the girls' locker room.

Andrea Krausse -- leaves the big dipper full of the essence of Mr. Jervah's class.

Tosca Krausse --
leaves straight hair to Steff Seaver in remembrance.

Lois Kneeland --
leaves a side cart, containing a lizard for Mr. VanPelt so he won't hit his knees on the dashboard.

Barbara Kuczun --
leaves her nickname to any junior girl who has deserved it.

Ray Langis --
leaves a pair of cowboy boots to Miss Reynolds.

Dorothy LaPlante --
leaves her clean white gym sneakers to Mrs. Cheney.

Maryann Lavoie -- leaves all her shorthand notes to any girl who can read them.

Denne Leach --
leaves her Biology dissecting kit to any lucky vampire.

Nance LeBeau --
leaves her assembly speeches to the next junior girl orator.

David Lemieux --
leaves all the visual aid problems.

Donna Lewis --
leaves Mrs. Friedman a new detention book for next year's Amer. Civ. II classes.

Charles Linehan --
leaves all his gum in the desk in room B-108.

Justine Lynge --
leaves her gym bloomers, which she frequently forgets anyway.

Donna MacCracken --
leaves a day of reviewing for a test to Mrs. Friedman.

Bill MacKay --
leaves two weeks free board at the Bri-Mar Kennels for Mr. Mueller's cat.

Ken Magee and Robert Coffin -- leave a year's supply of cat food to Mrs. Friedman's cat, and also a jewel-studded collar and chain so she can bring her to school.

George Marvel --
leaves his Oldsmobile trouble to Bob Riddle.

Tom Mattraw --
leaves Wally Wells his bed in Beverly Hospital.

Michael McMullen --
leaves Mr. Barry one new music stand.

Jack McNatt--
leaves to his favorite English teacher, a one-way, all-expense-paid trip to Red China just in time for the annual famine.

Barry Mello --
leaves Miss Reynolds a pair of six guns.

Muriel Meunier --
leaves her French accent to Renay Brewer.

Roy Mills --
leaves his nickname "Mildew" to some other fungus who deserves the honor.
Anita Mitchell --
leaves the fourth seat in C-213 to Rick Wilcox.
Diane Morrell --
leaves her baton to anyone who dares to come close enough to get it.
Howard Munday -- leaves his German pronunciation of "ch" to be cherished by Mrs. Fullerton.
Sue Munsell --
leaves her legs to any junior girl who wants them.
Kerry Murphy --
leaves his undated corridor passes to whoever is willing to pay for them.
Linda Nangle --
leaves her supreme athletic ability to Sue Bickford.
Barbara Newton --
leaves her "cute" dimples to all of the envious people who comment on them.
Gail Peters --
leaves all her Senior privileges to some lucky junior.
Leslie Pitt --
leaves the New York Times News section to Mrs. Friedman.
Bruce Ray --
leaves his broad jump record to David Gangi.
Dick Ray --
leaves a varnished wooden podium to Mr. Barry so that he won't have to settle for that music stand next year.
Dianne Rice --
leaves those lucky students who will have Mr. Soucy next year, thirty handy references of "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."
Gretchen Rollfs --
leaves her Hofstadters to some poor, unfortunate junior.
Caroline Ruocco --
leaves 3 badly worn typewriting erasers and 15 broken fingernails to any prospective business student.
Leslie Rushworth --
leaves her Spanish compositions to Miss Parker.
Pam Saunders --
leaves her 1953 M. G. to anyone who wants an invisible car.
R. Savolainen --
leaves the sweet smell of the boys' locker room to any unfortunate underclassmen with sensitive noses.
Richard Scheuerman -- leaves his car to anyone who can tow it away.
Jane Scott--
leaves her dear, sweet gym song of the Red Team to Mrs. Cheney.
Alan Sentkowski --
leaves his hair growing ability to any prospective Beatle.
Lenny Silva --
leaves his drafting class.
Greg Smith --
leaves his Math 5 class.

Greg Stover --
leaves a case of Redi-Red Cap Air Refreshener to Mr. Sangermano to use after Advanced Biology labs.
Terry Stump --
leaves all of his second-hand building passes far behind.
Steven Temple --
leaves Mr. Jervah's library periods to anyone.
Judy Thompson --
leaves her quiet ways to Perry Sager.
Peggy Walker --
leaves her blonde hair to Ronny Hopping.
Ruth Watson --
leaves her sisters "those wonderful years."
Virginia Walters --
leaves all the homework to the underclassmen.
Nathaniel Wetherbee -- leaves a dozen tennis balls in the river to anyone who wants to swim for them.
Stephen Weatherbee -- leaves a year's supply of chalk to Mr. Campbell.
John Whelan --
leaves his superior ability in Latin to Ray Mahoney or any other deserving Latin student for use in the Vatican Council.
Paul Woodbury --
leaves a bottle of Lavoris to someone?
Donna Woytovich --
leaves her ability to look busy when she is really getting nothing done, to anyone who really needs it.
Susan Yardley -- leaves Steve Chew her Spanish marks for the past three years.
And the Class Will Committee -- leaves to all those poor, poor Seniors, who passed in nameless will sheets, the thrill of being stuck with those unwanted articles they were so hoping to unload on the underclassmen.

IN WITNESSETH we hereby place our seal on this Class Day of 1964, in the Region of Masconometet, Boxford, Massachusetts.

HANNELORR BUNGE

Hannelorr Bunge, Masconomet's pretty redheaded German girl, came to us from Berlin in November of 1962. Hanne is interested in becoming a foreign language teacher, and she hopes to further her interest at Middlebury College. At present, Hanne is carrying a heavy schedule including American Civilization I and II. She has made Masconomet's honor roll. She has done well here and we know she will succeed.

STUDENT EXCHANGE BOARD

Mlle. Muriel Munier, a 19 year old French girl from Saint Germain en Laye, just outside the French capital, is studying at Masconomet this year, and is living with the family of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur McCoubrey of Mansion Drive in Topsfield.

Muriel finished her secondary studies last year at a religious school in France and has come to the United States to perfect her English and to observe American youth and customs. Her family are personal friends of the McCoubreys, and the Masconomet French teachers are delighted that she is able to be with us.
